

From: Brian Miles [mailto:brian_miles@ncsu.edu]
Sent: Friday, December 19, 2008 3:53 PM

Wind Energy Workshop

A workshop on wind energy for eastern North Carolina government officials, planners, and economic developers

Friday, January 30, 2009

10:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m. (lunch will be served)

Vernon G. James Research and Extension Center (directions:
<http://www.ces.ncsu.edu/plymouth/direction.html>)

Who should attend:

- County commissioners and town councilors
- County and town managers
- County and town planners
- Economic developers

Why you should attend:

- To learn about:
 - Wind resource potential in coastal North Carolina
 - Wind energy technology
 - Wind development process
 - Siting and safety issues
 - Economic development opportunities
- A panel of experts will answer your questions

To register to for this FREE workshop, please contact:

brian_miles@ncsu.edu; 919-515-3799

North Carolina Solar Center, <http://www.ncsc.ncsu.edu/>